The editor, staff and advisers of THE 1962 TIGER cordially invite you to review the highlights of the 1961-62 school year at Savannah State College.

ALMA MATER

Savannah State College Hymn

Let us give thanks and praise to Thee,
To our Alma Mater, S.S.C.
Thine honor, pride, and eminence,
We raise in prayerful reverence.

Refrain

Where Savannah meets the sea,
Where grassy plains and palms abound
Where the flow'rs are gems of loveliness,
There S.S.C. is found.
We adore each beauteous scene and hall,
Our all we pledge to Thee!
In our hearts we'll build a shrine for Thee,
We hail Thee S.S.C.!

II

Guide us still from day to day,
Be thou mindful lest we lose our way;
Help us know that life, short or long,
Means unceasing work for weak and strong.

DEDICATION

The building of a great college is the result of many things. Among these are, leadership, dedicated faculty, good students and good Alumni.

On Savannah State's faculty roster are the names, William B. Nelson and C. Vernon Clay. These two men have devoted themselves to the unselfish task of fashioning great students. Their success has been phenomenal. Throughout the state of Georgia and the United States, their students are rendering a great service to mankind.

Since they have so greatly enriched the lives of so many, it is with humbleness that we dedicate THE 1962 TIGER to William B. Nelson and C. Vernon Clay.

"But he willing to justify himself, said to Jesus: And who is my neighbour?

And Jesus answering, said: A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among robbers, who also stripped him and having wounded him went away, leaving him half dead.

And it chanced, that a certain priest went down the same way: and seeing him passed by.

In like manner also a Levite, when he was near the place and saw him, passed by.

But a certain Samaritan, being on his journey, came near him: and seeing him, was moved with compassion:

And going up to him, bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine: and setting him upon his own beast, brought him to an inn and took care of him.

And the next day he took out two pence and gave to the host and said: Take care of him; and whatsoever thou shalt spend over and above, I at my return, will repay thee.

Which of these three, in thy opinion, was neighbour to him that fell among the robbers?

But he said: He that shewed mercy to him. And Jesus said to him: Go, and do thou in like manner."

St. Luke XI, 29-37

FOREWORD

"The song is ended, but the melody lingers on." College days past so swiftly. How sweet—yet, so sad.

For those who would like to reminisce over the activities and achievements of the Savannah State College family, The 1962 Tiger captures these memories in its compilation of the most memorable days of 1961-62 at Savannah State College.

PURPOSES AND OBJECTIVES OF THE COLLEGE

Savannah State College, a unit of the University System of Georgia, is a college of applied arts and sciences, teacher education, business administration and industrial technology.

The college has two main purposes. It affords students an opportunity to acquire an education that will enable them to live effectively in a democratic society. It provides continuing educational and cultural services for the people of Georgia.

A worth-while education, as the faculty conceives it, demands the full, rounded development of the individual. Consistent with this large purpose the institution has several major objectives. Specifically, the total college program is designed to help students:

1. To gain basic preparation, personal qualities, and skills which are essential alike to further study, earning a living, and personal well-being;

2. To understand the nature of mental, emotional, and physical health and to practice habits conducive to sound personal and community health;

3. To attain a sharp awareness of social and civic responsibility and live daily as good citizens;

4. To understand the common phenomena of man's physical environment and use scientific advances for human welfare;

5. To cherish a discerning knowledge of man's cultural heritage, respect for foreign peoples and cultures, and aesthetic appreciation to the creative artistic expressions of the human spirit;

6. To know and live by those moral and spiritual values which refine and exalt human life.

To attain these objectives the college (a) offers formal instruction organized within seven divisions—Business Administration, Education, Humanities, Natural Sciences, Social Sciences, Technical Sciences, Home Study; (b) selects and upgrades teachers, counsellors, personnel workers, administrative and auxiliary services personnel; (c) gives students due responsibility in making their own educational decisions and performing work-aid duties, participating in government of the college, extra-class activities, campus life, and religious services; (d) draws upon all available intellectual, cultural, technical, and spiritual resources to enrich the lives of students.

Briefly then, every teacher, every facility, every arrangement here serves two main purposes. It is that boys and girls may develop into mature men and women who live effectively in the community, the state, and nation. It is that life may be made richer for the people of Georgia.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICERS

The successful operation of a large college is so complex that it is necessary for the president to divide its operation into several phases and appoint an officer to take charge of each phase. There are seven of these officers at Savannah State and the following paragraphs will give brief descriptions of their duties.

The Dean of Faculty is in charge of the instructional phase of the college. Matters of academic adjustment and progress of students curriculum and faculty personnel are handled through his office.

The Comptroller handles all business affairs of the college. Financial matters, student accounts and expenses are among the many duties of his office.

The Registrar is in charge of registration and admission into the college. Matters concerning catalogs, transcripts, information about admission, courses offered and graduation requirements are some of the duties of his office.

The Librarian is in charge of the library and its many functions. He must keep the volumes in the library up to date with well selected books, newspapers and periodicals.

The Chairman of Student Personnel Services is concerned with the personal welfare of students, housing and work-aid assistance. His duties also include approving all student campus affairs and directing the Student Health Service.

The Director of Public Relations is responsible for the college's general information program. Publications, institutes, radio and TV programs are but a few of his many responsibilities.

The Alumni Secretary is in charge of matters pertaining to alumni affairs. He makes frequent visits to alumni chapters throughout the country to keep them abreast of the college's program. Alumni publications and organizing alumni chapters are but two of his many responsibilities.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The roster of the 1961-62 Senior Class Officers encompasses the most outstanding students at Savannah State College. Over the past four years, these students have contributed much to the student body of the college and all of them are in great demand for their services. In selecting these leaders, the seniors have succeeded in molding an exclusive club of "presidents."

Almarie Glover (secretary) is president of Delta Nu Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. Mamie Green (corresponding secretary) is president of the Boar's Head Club. Charles Frazier (president) is president of Beta Kappa Chi Scientific Society. Zelma Stevenson (chaplain) is president of the Business Club. Another educational error is an impatience of doubt, and haste to assertion without due and mature suspension of judgment. If ye suffer the eye of a young gentleman once to be entangled with vain sights and the ear to be corrupted with fond or filthy talk, the mind shall quickly fall sick. THE ELEVENTH ANNUAL SOUTHERN REGION PRESS INSTITUTE

With Dr. W. K. Payne serving as honorary director, Savannah State College was host to other colleges, high schools and elementary schools, February 8-9, for the Eleventh Annual Southern Region Press Institute. The theme of the Institute was "NO MAN IS AN ISLAND ENTIRE OF ITSELF: EVERY MAN IS A PIECE OF THE CONTINENT, A PART OF THE MAIN."

The Institute is affiliated with Columbia University Scholastic Press Association and other scholastic press agencies. It has been endorsed by the Georgia Interscholastic Association.

The principal speaker for the public assembly, Thursday, February 8, was Paul Swensson, executive director of the Wall Street Journal's Newspaper Fund, Inc. Jack Leflore, Sales Manager for the American Yearbook Company, delivered the keynote address, Thursday morning. Frank Reeves, member of the National Democratic Committee for the District of Columbia, addressed the delegates at the luncheon meeting.

On January 16, 1908, on the campus of Howard University Alpha Kappa Alpha was born—born to perpetuate the highest ideals of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. This idea of the first Negro Greek letter Sorority was envisioned by Ethel Hedgeman, a junior at Howard University. The idea was first conceived as an instrument to enrich the social and intellectual aspects of college life, however, as the setting changed and new stimuli developed, her functioning has become more complex and involved.

Soror Hedgeman discussed her idea with eight other junior and senior girls receiving their suggestions and counter proposals until definite plans for the establishment of the organization were drawn up and presented to the University administration. Because the founders were juniors and seniors, seven sophomore girls who possessed the desired qualifications of seriousness, studiousness, and responsibility were taken into the sorority without initiation to insure its continuity.

The first ritualistic initiation was held on February 11, 1909. There were four members in the first "line." Thus, Alpha Kappa Alpha had twenty members representative of its twenty pearls. On January 13, 1913 the sorority was incorporated as a perpetual body. It now has chapters all over America and in Africa.

Since the founding and incorporating of the sorority, it has undertaken many projects to help humanity. Some of the outstanding ones being the Vocational Guidance Project, the Study of Negro Life and History, the Mississippi Health Project, and the National Non-Partisan Lobby on Civic and Democratic Rights. Presently the sorority has four National Projects. They are American Council on Human Rights, Scholarship, Housing, and Health. In the field of health, research on sickle cell anemia is the current project.

The official journal of the sorority is the Ivy Leaf. The sorority does not maintain a pledge club, but an interest group. This group is called the Ivy Leaf Club and is composed of girls who aspire for membership in Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Gamma Upsilon chapter was established in the fall of 1949. Soror Evanell R. Terrell was influential in getting the chapter on this campus. Soror Mary Williams assisted in the first initiation. The local chapter participates in the national projects on the local bases. Each quarter it sponsors some type of civic project in the field of health, at the end of the school year an achievement plaque is awarded, and an annual assembly program is presented.

More than fifty-five years ago at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, one of the most important meetings in Negro history was taking place. Seven valiant Negro students, drawn together by their mutual feeling for the need of an organization which would bind Negro students together, organized Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, the first Negro Greek-letter organization.

Delta Eta Chapter of Savannah State College has strived unceasingly to uphold "manly deeds, scholarship and love for all mankind," the aims of Alpha Phi Alpha. During the past eleven years of existence on Savannah State's campus, the men of Delta Eta have made unlimited and significant contributions in all fields of endeavor.

The Park shown in the picture on this page was built by the chapter and dedicated to the two deceased brothers, Toland J. Collier and Elijah J. La Marr on April 28, 1959, the tenth anniversary of the chapter.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority was founded in 1913 at Howard University by twenty-two undergraduate students. They visualized an organization whose aims would be something more serious than social activity. They longed to see developed a union of college women based on certain cardinal principles and pledged to uphold lofty ideals. These women brought together college women of life potentialities and dedicated to the same ideals and purposes. Such was the beginning of Delta Sigma Theta.

Springing from a small nucleus of kindred souls as have all great movements in the world's history, Delta Sigma Theta has grown steadily until today its life line stretches beyond the United States to Haiti and Liberia. Today there are 263 chapters whose thousands of members, pledged to the highest ideals of womanhood, of scholarship, and of service are making worthy contributions toward the building of a better world.

In 1930 Delta Sigma Theta was incorporated as a national organization. Many individual chapters are today incorporated bodies in their respective States.

As the Sorority works on its major national projects, as it gives scholarships and fellowships to worthy students, it strives to realize its purpose. There is constant effort to help its members learn how to work together in such a manner as to bring about better understanding and develop wholesome relationships.

Delta Sigma Theta has a significant history. Day by day its members continue to be makers of history.

FRATERNITY

In 1911, three young men, Edgar A. Love, Oscar J. Cooper, and Frank Coleman, conceived the idea of founding a National Negro College Fraternity. A fraternity whose mother chapter could be at Howard University, their Alma Mater, but whose influence would spread to all the Negro youth of America. The young men discussed the matter many times, and as a result concluded that they should have some guidance. Brother Cooper at once suggested Professor Just, Associate Professor of Biology, who seemed to him to have a keen appreciation for the problems of youth. The next day after class was out, while working in the laboratory, Cooper discussed the matter with the young professor, who readily consented to serve as an advisor.

On Friday evening, November 17, 1911, the night sacred to all Omega men, the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity was born. The four cardinal principles agreed upon at this meeting were Scholarship, manhood, Perseverance, and Uplift. The motto, "Friendship is essential to the soul," was symbolized by the words Omega Psi Phi, the equivalent words of the motto in Greek.

On October 28, 1914, the laying of the foundation was formally completed when the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity was incorporated by the United States Congress under the laws governing the District of Columbia. The incorporators were Edgar A. Love—Grand Basileus; Oscar J. Cooper—Grand Keeper of Records; and Frank Coleman—Grand Keeper of Seals.

From that one undergraduate chapter (Alpha Chapter) the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity has a roster of 270 chapters. From a membership of three in 1911, Omega has a membership of more than 20,000. Beginning at the capital of the nation, Omega has spread into the East, into the North and then the South, into Canada, and finally into the West. Every state in the Union has had some sons of Omega to carry her ideals of Brotherhood, of Scholarship, Manhood, Courage and Uplift.

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority was organized on the campus of Howard University, Washington, D. C., January 1920. The five founders, all of whom are still living, are Arizona Cleaver Stemons, Viola Tyler Goings, Pearl Neal, Fannie Pettie Watts (Of Savannah) and Myrtle Tyler Faithful. Soror Stemons has the honor of being the first president of the organization.

The objectives of finer womanhood, sisterly love and scholarship have brought together women from all parts of the country—women who have similar tastes and aspirations, similar potentialities for highest attainments, and similar desires for concerted action that result in progress especially in the field of academic and literary attainments.

The name of the official organ of the sorority is the Archon. The pledge club is known as the Archonian Club. The Archonian is composed of young women who are or have matriculated in accredited colleges and who are aspiring to membership in the sorority.

Rho Beta Chapter participates as far as possible in all of the national programs of the sorority. Its contribution to the control and prevention of juvenile delinquency is an annual party at Thanksgiving time for the children of the Greenbriar Children's Center. We also assist the local graduate chapter with its city-wide story hour program during Finer Womanhood Week. On the Campus we have an annual assembly program, award the Anne W. Jordon Prize annually to the freshman girl with the highest average for the fall quarter, entertain all campus sorority women at the All-Greek reception during Finer Womanhood Week.

PHI BETA SIGMA

FRATERNITY

The Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity has a distinguished history. It was founded in the nation's capital in 1914 by three inspired souls from three corners of the land—A. Langston Taylor from Tennessee, Leonard F. Morse from Massachusetts and Charles I. Brown from Kansas. These men were then students at Howard University.

The first years were the glorious years of awakening and early growth. There was the thrill of forging the ritual, designing the pen and great seal and formulating the principles upon which the organization would flourish in the turbulent days to come. Through the years Phi Beta Sigma has popularized the slogan, "Bigger and Better Business," promoted and sponsored the cooperative movement and fought for fair employment opportunities and practices. During the depression years, Sigma created "Social Action," a philosophy of improving social order that has been imitated and at times emulated by other groups. The Fraternity has stood unequivocally for complete equality for people.

The sons of Sigma are legend. "May our cause ever speed on its way."

SIGMA GAMMA RHO

SORORITY

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Incorporated was organized on November 12, 1922, in Indianapolis by Mary Lou Gardner and six other school teachers. The Sorority became an incorporated National Collegiate Sorority on December 30, 1929, when a charter was granted Alpha Chapter at Butler University, Indianapolis, Indiana.

During the first three years of its existence, the sorority confined its activities to organizing. The first call for a national boule was sent out by acting Basileus, Soror Allison, to be held at Indianapolis, December 27 to 29, 1925.

At present there are 79 alumni chapters and 45 campus chapters—one of which is located at the University of Liberia, Monrovia.

A charter was presented to Alpha Iota Chapter at Savannah State College November 26, 1949, by Soror Fannie P. Jenkins, the Southeastern Regional Director. The charter members were Julia Jones, Edna Ligon, Rose Lotson, Mattie Roberts, and Christine Wright.

FRATERNITY

It is the beautiful realization, beyond the realm of all imagination, of a vision shared commonly by the late Reverend Founder Elder Watson Diggs, "The Dreamer" John Milton Lee, Byron K. Armstrong, Guy L. Grant, Ezra D. Alexander, Henry T. Asher, Marcus P. Blakemore, Paul Caine, Edward G. Irvin and George W. Edmond. For it was the prudence of these astute men which inspired them in the school year 1910-11, more specifically the night of January 5, 1911, on the campus of Indiana University at Bloomington, Indiana, to sow among America's college men the seed of a fraternal tree whose fruit is available to, and now everywhere enjoyed by college youth regardless of their color, religion or national extraction. And it is a fact which Kappa Alpha Psi is justly proud that the constitution which her sagacious founders drafted more than fifty years ago, has never contained any clause whatsoever which either excluded or suggested the exclusion of a man from membership merely because of his color or creed. Its constitution is the law of an organization predicated upon, and dedicated to the principles of ACHIEVEMENT through a truly democratic fraternity.

LATE SPORTS BULLETINS

Kansas City, Mo. March 12, 1962

Hard driving Savannah State put the locks on Pacific Lutheran University's 6′8″ imported Swede and roared to an 84-75 victory in its opening round of the N.A.I.A. Basketball Tourney. The offensive heroes were Walton with 29 points and Jackson with 20. Mathis' defensive work threw the handcuffs on Hans Albertson, the gigantic Swede.

Running into a well balanced Lumberjack defense from Flagstaff's Arizona State College, the SSC Tigers bowed out of the N.A.I.A. Tourney by a 95-91 defeat despite a 37 point splurge by Walton. Jackson and Tate scored 18 and 15 points respectively. The honors for the Lumberjacks went to Don Buttrum, rugged 6′6″ senior who scored 23 points. WSOK radio station in Savannah, Ga. carried the game live from Kansas City.
